Re: My letter to the Prime Minister regarding infant male circumcision dated the 19th November 2010

Good morning Mr Thomson,

It is now six months since I met with you and delivered a letter addressed to the Prime Minister regarding the practice of non-medically indicated circumcision of infants in Australia.

Once again, I appreciate the workload that must result from constituent correspondence and thank you for your patience.

I also appreciate that a comprehensive and considered response would rightly involve considerable investigation and liaison. As such, I am in one way heartened that the issues raised have not been replied to in haste.

Regardless, would you please indulge me and confirm that the issues raised in my letter are, in fact, under active consideration and research.

Yours sincerely,
